—Have arrived during the week just closed, again completing the splendid assortment—the unequalled variety—of distinctive fashions. The demands made upon us during the past week for evening, wedding and reception footwear have kept us extremely busy, and to some extent depleted the showing, so that the new shipments will again make the exhibit complete for those who will be buying such footwear for the many events which will take place in social life during the coming week.

Evening Slippers, of kid and castor, in white, gray, lavender, purple, Nile green, yellow, pink, blue, white, red, tan and black; also Beaded Slippers, in white, pink, Alice blue and black and handsome patent leather.

Evening Slippers, of satin, in white, blue, pink, red, green and black, in plain, opera and strap; stylish Pumps and Sailor Ties, of demi-glace black Russia, mat kid and patent leather. The showing of the New Spring Oxfords is almost complete, and embraces every fashion which will be stylish.

Paris Ties, in Alice blue and lavender, made of Sea Island cotton.

Castor "Alexandria" Ties, in gray, blue, green, golden brown, seal brown, purple, lavender and black.

IN THE STORES

CLARK, DAVENPORT & CO. report a large volume of carpet and rug business as a result of their January sales. Nered so the history of the house has it. Nered so many striking patterns at such drastic reductions. Almost every carpet and rug in the immense stock has been reduced. One especially attractive offering is a line of Wilton rugs at one-third their usual price.

One will find here large and varied lines of Bigelow Brussels, Axminster and velvets, Wilton velvets, French Axminsters, and, in fact, every reliable make of carpet at surprisingly low prices. Clark, Davenport & Co. also make a specialty of sewing machines, and have a full line of the latest models in stock at very low prices.

S. KANN, SONS & CO.—This store will surely be crowded tomorrow, rain or shine. Another shipment of that French silk etienne will go on sale. The entire mill production was brought up to date in the first big shipment was sold and orders for 2,800 yards were taken. This week there is enough to fill these orders and about 5,000 yards of the same material is being offered. The material is a combination of silk and linen, light, lustrous and washable. Another extremely interesting offering is in silk—about twenty different weaves heretofore high priced, which will be offered for less than half. Leather goods enter the reduction sales, and many a handsome piece of luggage—things for men as well as women included. Two splendid lots of furs are offered at big reductions. What these lack in quantity they make up in value. The dinner sets are wanted, the half-price offering for high-grade sets, with a few minor pieces missing, ought to attract you. The clearing sales will end next Wednesday. The inventory will then be taken and the incentive for selling at less than cost, as is being done in many instances, will cease.

It is the price of the offering is in silk—advertisers is to be had for the period stated, and this policy makes it inadvisable to mention many things where there are but one or two of a kind. These things are on sale placarded with clearing-sale signs.

THE PALAIS ROYAL page today is devoted to a "30-cent Sale." This semi-annual occasion occurs between seasons, and best of bargains result. "The passing things" and "the coming things" are the subject of the Palais Royal page. The descriptions and prices will prove interesting reading. The passing things include the warm clothing of winter, and the coming things are the new fashions of spring. The Palais Royal "Mill and Factory Sale" announcement has appeared in The Star periodically for many years, and is an important feature of today's issue.

LANSBURGH & BRO. announce a pre-inventory sale. They want you to come and help them take stock. Everything in the store will be marked down, every broken lot, every short line will be sold at cost or less. If you go and buy the splendid goods, the things you need and must have, you'll save them the trouble of inventory. They have put the small prices on them to make it worth your while.

Eight hundred women's tailored suits way below half. Walking skirts of Panama cheviot and broadcloth at prices that will make you gasp. They are also a lot of Royal Worcester Corsets, the new models. Look up their ad. of today for the new prices. Shoulder shawls at one-third former prices. Our weather is here for a month or two; why not buy a piece or a set of furs and save half or more.

LEVERTON & CO. are announcing today the exhibit of a splendid stock of advance spring and summer fashions in women's suits, waists, skirts, etc.

These are the last days of the coming week. These are the last days before inventory and prices have been finally reduced on all winter goods in preparation for that event. The pre-inventory sales of past years have always drawn large crowds of thrifty shoppers, and it would be surprising indeed if this sale proved an exception. Prices of all classes of garments are affected—suits, gowns, skirts, waists, raincoats and fur-lined coats. In many instances the reductions are half or more and the very best bargains of the season are promised.

PARKER, BRIDGET & CO. announce the opening of their annual stocktaking sale two weeks before inventory. Every sample piece, every soiled garment and every odd lot of goods must be sold before stocktaking and house cleaning. A positive rule not to carry over goods from one season to the next. The reductions in tailored cloth suits is something unusual, as is the case also with an attractive lot of suits of silk chiffon velvet and imported gowns for afternoon and evening. Coats and opera wraps, furs, lingerie, waists and taffeta petticoats are all marked to such a degree in price as to be within the reach of women whose incomes would not admit of their having purchased them earlier in the season.

W. B. MOSES & SONS are continuing their rummage sale with extraordinary values at startling cuts in prices. Having determined to close out great quantities of goods to make room for new stock, they find that the quickest and surest means to get rid of them is to make the prices low enough to attract the interest of customers into buying, whether in immediate need of such articles or not. A large number of goods are being sold at prices that will be particularly appealing to housewives at this season is the rummage collection of matings. These come in rolls or remnants and consist of the finest weaves from the

NEWS OF THE LOCAL NATIONAL GUARDSMEN

DISBANDMENT of the Naval Battalion of the National Guard of the District of Columbia, which had really been expected for several years, occurred, practically, last Monday evening, and, actually, the following day when the following, officially designated general orders No. 2, headquarters D. C. Militia, Washington, January 24, 1906, was framed at District militia headquarters:

"The Naval Battalion of the National Guard of the District of Columbia is hereby disbanded. The following named officers are honorably discharged: Lieut. Commander Randolph B. Brummett, executive officer; Lieut. Sidney Bleber, paymaster; Lieut. S. Clifford Cox, surgeon; Lieut. William H. Lantz, chief engineer; Lieut. Joseph A. Dempf, Lieut. (junior grade) John Doyle Carmody, Ensign Frank W. Seymour, Ensign Clyde W. Kelly, Ensign Walter E. Burt, Ensign Wm. E. Bico, Ensign Joseph S. Hill and Ensign Charles S. Jones."

The disbandment was hastened by the failure of Lieut. Commander Brummett, executive officer; Lieut. Cox, surgeon, and Lieut. Lantz, chief engineer, to comply with requests that they tender their resignations. Gen. Harries, commanding the District of Columbia Militia, announced to a gathering that included all of the members of the battalion, with four exceptions, last Monday evening that the battalion would be reorganized just as soon as the property accounts of the officers should be settled.
